More Than $50,000 Worth of Damage Dene to Property.

HOT SPRINGS, Sept. 22.—This morning fire was discovered in the Pacific Hotel, on Central avenue. Before the flames were checked over $50,000 worth of property was destroyed. How it originated is a mystery. The building was unoccupied, save for a party who were caring for the house and furniture. The Pacific was entirely, destroyed, also the Crescent escaped, but their personal effects were destroyed, along with the furniture. The Valley stables saved their horses, but the building was entirely ruined. The wind then changed and the Jewish synagogue across the street caught and was soon reduced to ashes. Five cottages in the rear of the Pacific were destroyed. The property is partly insured.

as a single man, while the woman he had secretly married attended Iowa College at Grinnell as a single woman and a leader in society. Saturday night, Sept. 14, Stinson left St. Louis, telling one or two infimate friends that he intended returning at Oscaloosa. Stinson had shot his wife, then himself. Both died instantly.

Stinson's wife, before her marriage, was Miss Arta Moore, daughter of Horace Moore, a wealthy resident of Panora, Io. She was 20 years old and Stinson 22. They had been brought up in neighboring towns and had been tovers aimest from childhood. Parental opposition, the promptings of love and the despair of the infatuated hus-and its horror.

Stinson cane to St. Louis two years ago and almost immediately secured work as a compositor with the Woodward & Tiernan Printing Co. on North Third street. With a fellow compositor he secured a room on Washington avenue, just west of Uhrig's Cave. Then he joined Laclede Lodge, No. 22, I. O. O. F. He had already married Miss Arta Moore under the most romantic circumstances, but it was long before any of his friends in St. Louis learned the romance. But two or persons, in fact, besides the contracting parties, knew of the marriage, they having taken a friend of Stinson's, a newspaper man of Oscalosa, into their confidence in order that he might act as a witness to the ceremony. One day Stinson showed his roommate on Washington avenue a marriage certificate. Miss Arta Moore was the other name on the cocument. Stinson told his roommate that they had loved each other from childhood and that they had finally agreed to be married. But Miss Moore's family was wealthy, and while Stinson's father was a Justice of the Peace and had been well off, he had lost all he had by unwise investments and Stinson had only what he could earn. He was editor of a paper at Grinnell, but was making very little money. So when Miss Moore's parents were informed of the match her father sternly objected and forbade all thought of its fulfillment. Then they planned a runaway marriage, and it was performed on a Saturday three years ago. Miss Moore was a student at lowa College. Her absence from school would create comment, so they waited until one Friday, when Miss Moore formed and remaining with a lady friend in Oscalossa, a near-by town, until Monday, the next school dey, Instead she met Stinson at Cutumwa, Io., and they were secretly wedded, guarding their secret so well that not until the trasted of Sunay morning did those whose right it was to know son at Ottumwa, Io., and they were secretly wedded, guarding their secret so well that not until the tracedy of Sunday morning did those whose right it was to know even suspect the truth.

Stinson said that he had the certificate in his possession, because his young wife feared to keep it herself, dreading discovery. There was danger that her mother or sisters would find it among her things during the summer vacation.

After that Stinson seldom referred to his romance, but something over eighteen months ago left St. Louis to see his wife for the first time since the marriage.

The meeting was planned in the same manner as that for the wedding and for that next and fatal meeting of last Saturday. Stinson returned shortly and resumed his work at Woodward & Tiernan's, seemingly in better spirits. Last December he moved from Washington avenue to Mis Olive street, where he rented a room from Mrs. Hoy. His former room-mate still worked by his side at Woodward & Tiernan's and Stinson occasionally referred to his history, speaking of the happiness in store for him when he could have his beautiful young wife by his side. Saturday, Sept. 14, he told his former room-mate and a close friend in the Odd-Fellows that he intended taking a short vacation and would bring his wife home with him.

James Rudesill's Jealous Bage Nearly Terminates in Tragedy.

The residence of Capt. Frank Christy of the Wiggins Ferry Co., 2518 Whittimore place, came near being the scene Sunday atternoon of an atroclous wife murder. James C. Rudesill, Purchasing Agent of the N. K. Fairbank Soap Co., tried to shoot his wife and narrowly missed his aim. Mr. and Mrs. Rudesill have for some time been boarding with Capt. Christy. About 1:20 e-look Sunday afternoon the report of a pistol, followed by the piercing acreams of a woman, startled the Christy household, and Capt. Christy and his two sons hastened to the room of the Rudesills, whence the noises came. In the ballway they met Mrs. Rudesill, her hair disheyelled and her throat discolared with finger prints. She was running away from her husband, who steod in the doorway, fourtishing a smoking revolver. They overpowered and disarmed him before he could shoot at his wife again. Rudesill then hurriedly left the house and wandered into Lafayette Park, near by, where he was arrested by Patrolman Bockstiegel and locked up at the park station. He was soon afterward transferred to the Four Courts.

Except a severe shock to her nervous system and the bruises on her throat, caused by a victous choking given by her husband, Mrs. Rudesill was unharmed. But shoot at his wife again, Rudesill was unharmed. But should have a severe shock to her nervous system and the bruises on her throat, caused by a victous choking given by her husband, Mrs. Rudesill was unharmed. But should have her her husband had aimed directly at her forehead. The builet went wide of its mark and was burled in the wall.

Rudesill's desperate act was the result of jealous rage. Sunday morning his wife received a letter from a lady friend in Peoria, Ill. She was reading it when her husband entered the room and demanded to see it. She tore the missive up, put the pieces in her mouth and chewing them to a pulp swallowed it. Then Rudesill seized her by the throat and gave her a severe choking. Woman-like, she concealed the deep imprints of her assailant's fingers on her throat when sidence of Capt. Frank Christy of Luce claims the Decks had it in for him because of some-thing he did to them. He came to the city thing he did to them. He came to the city Saturday and put up at the Hotel Moser. That evening he received a note requesting him to call at Deck's saloon. Luce started there, but claims he was stopped in an al-ley on Pine street, between Sixth and Sev-enth streets, by the Deck boys and "Dutch" Neil, a puglist, and given a severe drub-bing.

MAYOR OF CARTHAGE INVESTS Purchases the Wiggins Tract in the North End for $100,000.

Thomas T. Luscombe, Mayor of Carthage, Mo., has made a $100,000 purchase of North St. Louis lands, It is stated that Mr. Luscombe is a stockholder of the Terminal Investment Co., of which Maj. C. C. Rainwater is President.

As detailed some time ago in the Post-Dispatch, the Terminal Investment Co., which controls a stretch of land having over a mile of frontage on the river, north of East Grand avenue, is quietly negotiating with outside manufacturers to locate on its property. The plan is to build a manufacturing city.

It is understood that over a score of probable leases and some twelve "sure things" induced the investment company to enlarge its holdings and that Mr. Luscombe's purchase was the result.

The sale was made through the agency of E. S. Guignon, the realty agent in the Turner Building, and will be duly recorded in a few days. Thomas T. Luscombe, Mayor of Car-

KNEE PANTS STRIKE.

Demand for an Increase of 20 .per Cent in Wages.

The Knee-Pants Makers Union met at 508 North Eleventh street Sunday aftermoon and declared a strike against the local-manufacturers. To a Post-Dispatch reporter I. Harris of 508 North Eleventh street stated that thecause of the strike was that the scale per dozen now paid was entirely too low and that the boases and workmen had therefore combined to demand a 20 per cent increase. The scale at present, according to Harris statement, ranges from 5 to 3.50 per dozen. I. W. Klaw & Co., Epstein & Rosenberg and A. Haas & Bon are firms against whom the strike is directed. Mr. Klaw said the lowest price paid the by his firm is 10 per dozen, and that he has never heard of any dissatisfaction among the pants-makers employed.

Mr. Haas said he was not paying in any instance less than 75c and that if an increase of 20 per cent is demanded his firm would drop out of the knee-pants business or buy them in the East.

The same statement was made by Mr. Epstein, who claimed that knee pants could now be bought in the East cheaper than they could be made in St. Louis under the present scale.

The strikers, who are said to number about seventy, have as yet made no demand of the manufacturers, but will do 80 this afternoon.

day morning. Dispessry Physician Newcomb, on taking an inventory of his wounds, found a scalp wound, a contusion over his eye, an incised wound of the left hand, and a stab in the shoulder. All of these Norton acquired at the end of a crap game which, having lasted all night, broke up in a row in the morning.

Norton proved a persistent winner. He made sevens and elevens with exasperating continuity on first throws, and when he was throwing for a point the dice; seemed to coptain no sevens at all. The consequence was he "win" $22—about all the crowd had. Naturally the losers did not like to see him leave with all their good "stuff" and, led by Joe Ebers and Hank Galeway, both of them touts, they assaulted the winner. Norton took his punishment gamely but he froze to the $22. He still had it when he gotto the Dispensary. After being repaired he started for his home at Collinsville, Ill.

This, of course, practically amounts to ruling off. But as to declaring bets off on the race' the stewards were not in favor of that course any mora' than the judges were. Booze also showed a reversal of form, and it would not have been right to have deprived the backers of Freddle L. T. and Miss Norma of their bets because of the action taken in Turner's case. In declaring bets off on a race all sides of the question should be carefully considered before such a course is followed." gap, whose testimony further decided us

LABOR NOTES. Cigarmakers' Union, No. 44, has sent a donation of $500 to the striking cigarmakers of Detroit. Tobacco Stemmers' Union, No. 5, has elected Misses Jennie Seise, Mamie Triesel and Josie Wright auditors for the ensuing big force of hands at Collins and Biddle streets.

The Boyer Machine Co. are about to open a new factory, with a full force of hands, at Twenty-first and Wash streets.

Work will begin in a few days on the Edenborn Wire and Nail Works, at Broadway and Warren street. Nails and wire will be manufactured and about 200 hands will be employed regularly.

The rafting lumber season will end in a couple of weeks and the river force will be dropped, but the teamsters and pilers will be kept at work until Nov. 1. About 2,000 hands are employed the greater part of the season and so far about 50,000,000 feet of lumber has been put in pile.

HINRICHSEN'S PREDICTION.

Cleveland Means to Bring On War With Spain and Clear the Way for a Third Term.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—The me ing of the Democratic silver leaders call to put in practical shape the conclusions onth is in session here to-day. Thesesent Benators Harris and Jones of Sione of Missouri, Hon. Casey Young of Memphis, and several others of less note. Senator Turpis of Indiana is the principal absentee, being detained at home.

The chief object of this meeting is to appoint chairmen for the different states who are to organize the silver forces with a view of capturing the State delegations to the National Democratic Convention. The leaders here seem hopeful of accomplishing this result, particularly Mr. Hinrichsen. He says the Democracy of the South and the doubtful States of the West are for free silver and will vote for it in the next election. He reliterated his former declarations as to the policy and purposes of the Administration. Cleveland, he said, would bring on a war with Spain about Cuba and eventually with England. This would give him an excuse to call for a big issue of bonds and rivet the gold standard on the country and would besides clear the way for a third term.

BEAUTIFUL SUNDAY RUCTION.

And Judge Stevenson Did the Solomor

Act, Monday. The Clan McBreen and the Waish constituency had a beautiful ruction at 1308 North Sixth street Sunday afternoon.

McBreen rents a room to the Waishes, and his claim is that Patrick Waish, his wife Mary and son Willie tried to chase him off the earth. He swore that Waish and his better haif, in a sadly inebriated condition, after throwing all the chinaware and most of the furniture handy at Mc-Breen and his wife, had recourse to all the household cats, which inoffending falines were hurled at the McBreens' heads. Patrick, in his turn, denounced McBreen as a monumental prevaricator. He said McBreen "had it in for him" because he had applied for a summons against him for a beating received Sept. 6.

The summons had never been served because McBreen displayed considerable versatility in dodging it. At this juncture it was produced on motion of Prosecuting City Attorney Dodge and served upon McBreen. In his testimony he cross-countered Waish, and Waish retailated with an upper-cut recital of grievances.

Judge Stevenson listened patiently to their lengthy "tale of woe" and decided the case by discharging McBreen and fining Patrick 110.

AT THE THEATERS. Burlesque on "Trilby" Makes a Hit at the Grand.

There were only three theaters open Sun day night, and this circumstance, com-bined with the cold wave which struck the town during the afternoon, made the busi-ness excellent. Matinee houses at the Hagan and Havlin's were not what they might have been, for at that time the thermome-ter was up near the top of the tube, but in

"Thrilby" is a two-act burlesque, the pombined work of Herbert and Puerner, and has for the object of all its follies Du Marier's book and Potter's play of "Trilby." It is so ridiculous that only those who have a constitutional aversion to travesties of serious subjects could fail to enjoy it.

Instead of the Cirque des Bashibazouck, we have the Theaster des Godzooks. Svengali is Spaghetti, who hypnotizes everything, tables, chairs, the eatire company, has only exits with the green light, and when he dies, naving made a mistake by going out on the wrong side of the table, gets up and dies on the other side. It pleases, regardless of Uncle Sam's weather prophets, there is another storm center developing, an area of low barometer, and by to-morrow the quicksilver in the tubes will be hugging 76 degrees again and giving us all the merry hai ha!

The Weather Bureau pretends to be absolutely helpless. It took a week to knock out the last spell and if it takes that long this time somebody in the Government Building is going to lose his job. There's a mystery about that Weather Bureau anyway. There's a man up there named Frankenfield who kept protesting that we were going to have ool weather for about three days before it came. Sunday morning he pulled out for New York and six hours' later the cold wave came waitsing in.

There was a strong wind Sunday night which made it seem colder than it really was. It varied from 34 to 42 miles an hour, and veered from west to southwest.

All the western country has received a touch of the cold weather, some parts a far more lively touch than here. Out in Cheyenne this morning it was only 30 devrees above zero and killing frosts are reported from many parts of Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas.

THE DEADLY TROLLEY.

Old Mrs. Laha Run Over by a Scullin Line Car on Gravois Avenue.

Mrs. Mary Gertrude Lahn, 75 years old, was struck by a rapidly moving east-bound car of the Union Depot, Line Monday morning and almost killed. She was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Lahm, with whom she lives at 2927 Magnolia avenue. There is a fracture in the front portion of her skull extending obliquely downward to the right eye. In view of the fact that only the outer rim or first bone of the skull appears to be affected, the physicians think she may recover. Consciousness had returned at noon, but she was still so dazed as to be unable to give an intelligent account of the accident. According to the account of the accident. According to the account of the accident given by Mrs. Mary Cervenka, an eye-witness, the motorneer of the car appears in a bad light. Mrs. Cervenka says that the old lady, who is quite feeble and deaf, was crossing Gravois avenue from Nebraska avenue. A team of horses drawing a large wagon was coming down Nebraska avenue at full tilt. Mrs. Lahn was hastening her pace to get out of the way of the team. A street car was flying on the down grade of Gravois avenue at that point, and she did not see it. Being partially deaf, neither could she hear it. She was squarely on one of the rails of the track before Mrs. Cervenka could make her understand by signs that the car was about to run over her. Then the old lady turned her head facing the car just in time to receive the full force of the impact on her forehead. Mrs. Mary Gertrude Lahn, 75 years old,

District Attorney Graham asked that Monday, Oct. 28, be fixed for the trial of the case, which was strenugusly objected to by Holmes' counsel.

After a full hearing Judge Finletter said he considered that would give the defense sufficient time to prepare their case, and ordering that the trial be set for that day, with the understanding that when the time arrived neither side could expect to come into court and obtain a continuance on paltry excuses.

A LEGITIMATE CHILD.

End of the Famous and Costly Hampton Case at Hannibal.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Sept. 23 .- The noted Hampton case, which has been in the courts for several years, and which has The title of the case was "Dorcas M. Hampton against Dr. John A. Hampton." Dr. Hampton died several years ago, leaving a large estate. He made a will, but did not mention the name of his daughter, Dorcas, in the will. The administrator of the estate claimed that Dorcas was an illegitimate child and not Dr. Hampton's daughter. She brought suit to set aside the will and the case has been tried two or three times, but each time the jury falled to agree. The case was to have been tried at a special term of the court in Ralis County next month, but to-day the attorneys agreed upon a compromise, by which Dorcas gets $5,000 in cash and is recognized as the legitimate daughter of the late Dr. John A. Hampton. Miss Dorcas Hampton resides in St. Louis and is very weathy. She did not care so much about the amount involved as she did to be a legitimate child. She was represented by Judge F. L. Schofield and George A. Mahan, while Hampton was represented by Col. R. E. Anderson and Judge Bacon. The title of the case was "Dorcas M.

SOME NEW THIEVES IN TOWN

For Old-Timers Would Not Have Attacked Clementina Buhrer's Place.

There must b some new burglars in town, for Sunday night an attempt was made to effect an entrance to Mrs. Clem-made to effect an entrance to Mrs. Clementina Buhler's notion store, 2104 Clark avenue. Mrs. Buhler's place is tabooed by local housebreakers. The ledy carries seven bullets in a faithful revolver which she never allows out of reach by day or night. A year ago last April two men broke into her bed-room and attacked her, but she resisted with such bloody effect upon one of the gang that they were glad to get away without any booty. Two months later someone else tried it and came away with a wholesome respect for the widow's alm.

Since then the place has been left severely alone, though sneak-thieves and housebreakers have played havoc in the neighborhood.

Some time Sunday night thieves got into Mrs. Buhler's back yard. They took the staves of a broken wash tub, an old stove lid and an iron bar and with these crude instruments forced the door of a summer kitchen in the rear of the notion efter. It was no small job, as the door was fastened on the inside by three bolts, and the catches had to be torn from their fast-enlings. From the summer kitchen the burglars tried to make their way into the store. They were unsuccessful, though they jammed the sides and botton of the door severely.

The housebreakers left without disturbing anything in the summer kitchen. Joseph Strowski, a driver for the Polar Wave Ice Co., who rooms with his wife in Mrs. Buhler's front room up-stairs, discovered the attempted burglary when he went out to work at 4 e clock Monday morning.

TURKISH TOBACCO TRADE Farmed Out by the Government to an English Company. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—In a report to the department of state Consul Hammond states that the Turkish Government has states that the Turkish Government has farmed out for a large sum of money the monopoly of the tobacco trade in Turkey to an English company. The bedy of Mr. Hammond's report is devoted to the tobacco industry of Hungary, where the government takes entire control of the husiness of tobacco growing. Mr. Hammond says that while there was an increase in the production amounting to about 50 per cent from 1883 to 1893, the increase has not continued for the past two years, showing that the production has probably reached a culminating point. Remarking upon the system Mr. Hamomnd says: "The Hungarian Government has complete control, amounting to a government monoply of tobacco. A private person extend for his own use raise an ounce of tobacco; it must be turned over to the government, the latter granting the privilege of raising the same."

The German Baptists are beginning to manifest a disposition against allowing members of secret societies admission to the faith, and this conference will take the matter up. It will come before the body this evening, and present indications are that the vote will be heavily against secret societies. Rev. Schumacher, leading the movement, believes that lodge attendance draws from church duty, inasmuch, he says, as many are under the impression that the prayer formula in lodges will give them as much right to salvation as church worship.

OUR AUTUMN SEASON.

The welcome cold wave came as pro dicted with the equinoctial period, which is the earliest time at which perma nent relief from the heat of summe can be confidently counted upon.

The excessively hot weather of this month and of past Septembers has been harder to bear because of the impression that the delightful autumn weather the Mississippi Valley should be ushered in with the beginning of the first fall month. This impression clings, although for years past it has proven delusive We look upon the continuation of heat into September as an unseasonable prolongation of summer, whereas in reality the first half of September is a part of the summer season and is almost always marked by extreme warm weather.

The records indicate that our summe season is gradually becoming later. The excessive heat of this month, although unusually prolonged, is duplicated by that of past months. For fifteen years we have suffered from very hot weather

But the spell is broken and with the exception of a few warm days we may expect delicious weather with a crisp bracing atmosphere, cool at night, pleasant in the day, brilliant skies and chang ing foliage, ending finally in that most exquisite mood of nature, Indian Sum mer, when the opalescent vault and the gergeous landscape meet in a dreamy

COL. WILLIAMS AND FREE SILVER.

Col. Samuel Williams, ex-editor of the Post-Dispatch, has furnished an interview to a local newspaper in which he nakes some amusing guesses as to the plans of the present editor of the Post-Dispatch in case the courts should fail to protect him in his rights. In another interview with another newspaper-it will be observed that the Colonel is some what prolific in interviews-he expresse the hope that "he will not again be called to the editorial helm." but admits that he "may be placed in a position where

THE RAILROAD TRUST.

A member of the Board of Presidents has put forth a supposably authorized statement which purports to be a defense of the trunk line agreement against the charge that it organizes a great

According to this statement the control of the traffic of the trunk lines will be vested in a commission of nine with absolute power to make and regulate rates and to enforce rules for the equitable division of traffic. But the mouth-piece of the combine naively asserts that this is not in any sense a trust and is not in violation of the Interstate Commerce law, because, while it takes away all power to make competvides the traffic, there is no arrange-ment for the pooling of earnings or the division of revenue. The agreement will benefit both the corporations and the public, he affirms, because it will make rates stable.

The ingenuousness of this statement is delictous. The public will see in the fine distinction between division of traffic and division of revenue the hand of a keen lawyer who has advised the President how to evade the letter of the law while violating its spirit, and will find in the regulation of rates to secure stability a mbine for the destruction of all competition and the looting of the public at

The statement so far from being a defense of the combine is a practical confession that it is what Senator Chandler called it, "a gigantic railroad trust," which will render all laws against with a view of increasing the service of the electric locomotives.

At a recent test made where the grade is forty-two feet to the mile, the engine was attached to a train of twenty-seven loaded cars and two dead locomotives. The weight, including the electric engine, was 1,222 tons. Every drawbar was tight and there was no slack. The train was then started, and within one minute it was moving at the rate of 10% miles an hour, from which point the speed was increased to the usual figure. The train resistance was 25 pounds per ton, of which 15 pounds was due to the grade pull.

Raliroad men declared the trial to be remarkable, especially in view of the fact that the rails were greasy and damp. They say that the full capacity of the electric locomotive has not yet been developed.

KAUPMANN'S NEW CYCLE On Which He Won Many Medals

END OF THE SEASON. Saltimore May Yet Be Displaced by the Cleveland Spiders. The race is fast drawing to a close, but he question of a pennant winner is still indecided. Cleveland, still in second place, playing by far better ball than Baltimore the leading club, and the Spiders have a the leading club, and the Spiders have a slight chance to glide into the lead before the finale. Philadelphia has an undisputed claim on third place, while Chicago, Boston and Brooklyn are not yet done fighting it out for fourth position. Cincinnat is quite out of the matter altogether and will have to be satisfied with ninth place, while Washington, St. Louis and Louisville will finish in the order named at the foot of the list. There is no question at this time about which clubs will play for the Temple cup. Cleveland and Baitimore are too far shead of the Quakers to be headed off, and, consequently, the great series will be between these two.

THE NEW CHALLENGER,

The "Distant Shore" Will Race for America's Cup.

America's Cup.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Mr. J. M. Soper, the yacht designer, came to London to-day and had a conference with Mr. Charles Day Rose, regarding the details of the yacht with which it is proposed to challenge for the America's cup. It was agreed to communicate with the Secretary of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, who will cable to the New York Yacht Club, as follows:
"With formal challenge, small challenge will read: In behalf of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and in the name of C. D. Rose, a member, the challenge to sail a series of matches for the America's cup against any yacht or vessel built in the United States. The following are the particulars: "Challenger's owner. C. D. Rose, name of yacht, the Distant Shore; length at load water line, 89 feet; rig. cutter.
"The challenge will be absolutely unconditional."

HALF-RATERS RACE. All Hands Prayed for a Breeze for the Little Yachts.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 23 .- The indications of the early morning for the international half-raters race are much the same as were those of Saturday, and the yachtsas were those of Saturday, and the yachtsmen who waited for the purpose of seeing the first race of the match were looking worried. The waters of the bay were unruffled and the leaves of the trees on land motionless. There were a few optimists in the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Club House who said that a breeze would come with the change in the tide. The yachts and crews were ready to race, anad all hands prayed for a wind to blow up before the starting hour.

Before 10 o'clock the hopes of the anx-lous were raised by the appearance of a ripple coming over the Sound from the northwest, and the prospects of a race loomed up into quite respectable proportions. Should this breeze hold the yachts would probably start, as on Saturday, on a rim of three miles out before the wind, from the Centre Island buoy. The course will be the same, three miles out and back and repeat, making a total of twelve miles.

M'GREW GUARDS RACE

M'GREW GUARDS RACE.

First Boad Event of the Swell Soldiers Will Be Interesting.

At the McGrew Guards road race, to be held at Forest Park and King's Righway Thursday afternoon, Sept. 28, at 4 o'clock, the prizes will consist of one time medal, donated by President McGrew, and seven other prizes. This promises to be a very exciting event, as a number of members of the guards have been practicing for weeks in order to get into proper condition. They are now able to make the four-mile circuit in a very few minutes, and the time promises to be fast. The officers of the day will be as follows: At the McGrew Guards road race, to be sees to be test. The others of the day will be as follows: Referee, D. W. Robert; judges, W. M. Butler, A. I. Jordan; starter, W. P. Laing; timers, H. W. Belding, E. A. Grath, A. G. Harding; scorers, E. E. Buckner, E. Funs-ten, Walter Townsend.

Fair Grounds Cycle Baces. Entry blanks for the bicycle races on Oct. 12, the last day of the St. Louis Fair, are now out, and contestants will find them at the cycle agencies and at the office of the Post-Dispatch. The list of events numbers sh. and the prises will be of an excellent class.

Entries close with W. P. Laing, secretary of the Associated Bioycle Clubs, 1728 Olive street, for the handloaps on Oct 5 at noon, and for the open events on Oct. 5 at noon.

Five Bathers Drowned.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23.—Robert Becker, aged 19; Oscar Huber, aged 21, and Otto Schweiger, aged 20, were drowned while bathing in Lake Michigan, opposite Lawrence avenue, their boat having drifted away from them while they were far out in the lake. George Engel, aged 11, and Wm. Elliott, aged 11, were drowned while bathing at the foot of Barry avenue.

Do Newspapers Always Tell the Truth? Unfortunately they never spoil a good ar-ticle for truth's sake. But you can rely on this statement, that you can buy fall and winter underwear at Boyd's, 514 and 516 Olive street, at half price. They secured a ten thousand dollar stock slightly broken in sizes at one-half its imported cost. The regular price is marked on each garment. You can buy them at one-half these prices.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 22.—R. W. Engel of Athol, Mass., sent a bullet through his heart in a room at the Hotel Pfister yesterday. There was a telegram in his pocket from W. W. Holton of Athol, Mass., and yesterday. It contained but one word, "Yes."

The old case of the city of East St. Louis against Alexander Fianninger and others, which involves about $6.000 and has been on the Crouit Court docket for seven or eight years, is calendered for trial to-day, Judge George W. Wall of DuQuoin is here to try the case and all the parties interested, together with the attorneys on both sides, are present. Excongressman Forman has been engaged to assist the counsel for the city. Ex. Mayor Stephens, ex. Auditor Kirk and ex. City Attorney Carroll are among the witnesses. The case grows out of the disposition of city funds during the term of Alexander Flanninger as City Treasurer. While he held the office he charged the city with about $85,000 which was claimed to have been paid out for city purposes, but of which no record was kept. The City Council at that time indorsed the Treasurer's accounts, but suit was afterwards brought against Flanninger on the alleged grounds that his accounts were not regular. The case has been put off from time to time, but the prospects are that 'it will now be deedded.

The West Main street improvement will soon be in progress, all the preliminaries have been arranged and preparations for the actual work on the street are now being made. The brick pavement, which is to be paid for by special taxation, will extend from Race street to the new bridge. While the pavement is being laid the grade of the street will be changed somewhat. The top of the grade will be cut down about eighteen inches, and at the bridge the level will be raised several feet, which will greatly reduce the slant. Main street is already paved with briek from Illinois street to Race street, and this improvement will be an extension.

BABETTE'S SCHEME.

A Promising Success that Ended in a Brilliant and he Failure.

From Hinstrated Bits.

However lenient and kindly disposed a woman may be to the faults and weaknesses of her stronger brethren, it has become a recognized law that the same elemency of spirit is not displayed when ene of her own sex is the culprit; and the fault is unparalleled in the history of further it is unparalleled in the history of twoman for a frail and erring member to woman for a frail passed in some further it is unparalleled in the history of the bride's pretty frock caught is the spanish trimming that adored Babette's bright black even the spanish trimming that adored Babette's bright black even they spanish directions.

How Babette was smarting under a grievance was a searching leed frail to sea that the sweet blue grees was experting leed from leed to woman stopped to gret disentence and a year, renounced all bachelor indulgances and took upon himself the oneson they passed on many passed on the spanish to the s

You have yet to learn that man is a satiated animal—worship him and he neglects you; pay him back in his own coin, and he does the adoring." That night Babette went off to the theater with glowing cheeks and eyes that were sparkling with more than their usual brilliancy, and she never danced better nor looked more absolutely bewitching.

mprehensive gaze and lit up with ex-tant satisfaction at the sight of the ree persons present whom she had wished he there

Dudley Hasiemere was almost a millionaire, and this was his first visit to England from his far-off. Australian home.

Babette's dark eyes had fashed him a glance at his first visit to the Jollity, a fortnight back, and she was the attraction glance at his first visit to the Jollity, a fortnight back, and she was the attraction that brought him thither every evening.

When her part was over she found him waiting in the green-room for her.

"Come to see me to-morrow afternoon," she said in her sweetest manner. "I want you to do me a favor.

"Tell me now?" he pleaded, squeezing her little hand in his, after the manner of a bold woose. "There's nothing I would not do for you."

Babette looked coquetitshly at him and shook her head with a laugh.

"Do not make rash promises; I might keep you to them." she answered. "To-morrow afternoon at I sharp! And if you like to bring me some flowers and bonbons, do. I adder roses and meringues glaces!"

Punctually at the appointed time Dudley Haslamere arrived at Babette's flat and found the lady waiting him, gorgeously stitied in her most bewitching tea gown.

"Thanks, awfully," she said, burying her pretty nose in a great beuquet of Marechal Niels. "I shall wear some of these to-night. Won't you smoke? I always do. Thanks, I must try the new brand. Do you prefer soda or water?"

Barbette thus made her visitor happy in his creature comforts before she commenced

"Then what can I say to assure you of my devotion?"

"Act!" said Babette, smiling. "Not don't be silly! I am not sentimentally inclined this afternoon. Besides, there are influenza microbes in kisses at this time of the year. And I have a real borror of the epidemic."

"What do you want me to do? Command me, and I am your willing slave!"

Babette put her two hands on his shoulders and looked very sweetly and very gravely into his face for a few seconds.

"You mean it?"

"On my honor as a sentleman, I do."

Then she laughed.

"I want you to make love to another woman."

"Babette!"

"I am not joking. Did you notice a very lovely girl at the Joility last night?"

"Yes. She had sparkling black eyes, and looked bewitching in short skirts and spangles."

"Silly! I am not referring to myself. I mean the occupant of one of the first tier boxes. Were not your eyes enamoured by rolden hair and shoulders, rising from folds of shimmering snowy satist?"

He shaok his head.

"My eyes never wandered from the stage," he asserted.

Babette sighed.

"I am very sorry. Come to Niagara with me this afternoon. I will point her out to stage," he amerted.

Babette sighed.

"I am very sorry. Come to Niagara wit me this afternoon. I will point her out you."

"But why?" he asked.

"Because you must be introduced you must admire her. Listen and obey, if yo value my—esteem. I have a score to sett with her husband, Lord Carleton. He is ye grotistical feel, and his wife is far ar away too good for him. I want you to make her—admire—you, do you see? Jealousy wirevive his love and renew her happiness. The man-looked at Babette in wonde ment, and then he whistled.

A SLICE OF A CITY.

The Gillinghams Think They Own Part of Philadelphia.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 23.—P. W. Gill-ingham, living on a ranch in the Coast Mountains, west of Minnville, has re-ceived a letter from a brother in Ohio to ceived a letter from a brother in Ohio to the effect that in the course of a short time he, together with several other helrs of Daniel Pegg, is likely to come into possession of a large fortune.

In 1785 Daniel Pegg leased thirty-four acres of land to the city of Philadelphia for a term of ainety-nine years. The land was subsequently parceled out, subject to this lease, as the records are said to show, and in time became part of the city.

For forty years no lease money has been paid and aside from the property itself there is a large claim for rent against the city.

Mr. Gillingham says he heard his mother speak of these leases, but had no knowledge of it beyond the fact that it was for ninetynine years and that seemed so long and indefinite a period that he never bothered his brain much about it. He will shortly leave for Philadelphia to accelerate proceedings in the matter.

THE RIGHTS OF MILES.

Trouble the Army Commanders May Have With the War Secretary.

Special to The Fost-Dispatch,
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Gen. Miles will succeed Gen. Schofield in command of the army on Sept. 29, at the age of 57, the young-army on Sept. 28, at the age of 57, the youngest commander of the army since Sheridan. His advant in Washington is awaited with interest by those who anticipate a battle royal between the General Commanding and the War Department.

When Gen. Sherman went to Washington he determined to command in reality as well-as in person. All heads of staff, bureaus and departments were ordered to send their reports through him instead of directly to the Secretary.

This was a sharp conflict of authority and Sherman failed to carry his point.

Men who know Gen. Miles say he holds the same ideas as Sherman, and believes the head of the army should know what its various branches are doing, and have a voice in the affairs of the various corps.

It is said Secretary Lamont is somewhat inclined to this idea. Gen. Miles has so far declined to express himself on the subject, but his opinions on the authority of a commanding officer are well known.

INSURGENTS WILL WIN.

Pair Prospects of Belligerent Rights Being Accorded the Patriots.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.-According to th NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—According to the reports current among those interested in Cuban affairs, the patriots are in a fair way to win before the first of the year. It is positively asserted by those who claim to be conversant with the facts that Cuba will have the rights of beligerency accorded her by Mexico and several South American republics before the month has passed. Facilities for coaling stations will be provided for the patriot navy and for all vessels satling under letters of marque issued by the officials of the Republic of Cuba.

Arrangements have been perfected here and in other large cities to get up a monsier petition that the United States recognize the insurgents in Cuba as beligerents. The Cuban Junta have the matter in hand and the company of the United States to acknowledge the republican government in Cuba. Part of the plan to call the attention of the American people to the work being done by the Cubans to free the island will be the issuing of 500,000 petitions in blank for the signature of those who are in favor of granting to the insurgents the recognition of belligerents. It is expected that there, will be at east 15,000,000 signatures to this petition, representing all classes.

Fate of Amador Guerra.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The report of the death of Amador Guerra, the Cuban insurgent leader, has been denied frequently by the Cubans. The Cuban papers publish an account of his death by Emil Glol, the Spanish soldier who killed him, the translation of which is as follows:

"It was in the battle of Paralejo. By my side ten men fell, four wounded, six dead. As the firing was quite heavy, I took three of the corpses and piling them one upon the other, formed a protective barricade. I kept my position here until the battle had been won by us and the enemy had fied.

"With three other soldiers, I then went to the enemy's camp. The number of dead and wounded was large. Stretched on the ground was a negro who must have been a leader, as he had a machete with a sliver handle. I took his weapon from him shad in a few minutes we came across a group of wounded Cubans, among whom was the leader, Amador Guerra, trying to load a revolver.

"Jumping over several corpses I was by Guerra before he had time to place the bullets in his weapon, and with a single stroke of my machete I cut his head off. I offered the machete to the Lieutenant-Colonel of my regiment, who told me to take it to Governor-General Martinez Campos. The latter said I might keep it as a memento of my exploit." Fate of Amador Guerra.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1895, by the Press Pub. Co.)
HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 23.—According to cable advices received from Madrid the Government has lately passed a resolution to send 25,000 troops in October to Cuba and 50,000 more in January. If by May the revo-lution has not been stamped out another army will be sent.

Gen. Maxino Gemez already has 50,000 men at his orders in open revolt and will these be able, he says, to maintain the defensive for a year, at the end of which he will assume the aggressive. He expects to have 100,000 well disciplined and experienced soldiers.

MRS. HEARNE'S CELL-MATE,

special to The Post-Dispatch.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Sept. 23.—Mrs., Virginia B. Todd was brought down this morning from the Palmyra jail to be arraigned in the Common Pleas Court on the charge of the murder of her daughter, Miss Hester Bethel. She was dressed in mourning and appeared to be deeply affected. When the Court asked if she was ready to be arraigned, Prosecuting Attorney Heather suggested that a copy of the indictment be served on her, and her attorney, State Senator Ball of Louisiana, and that the formal arraignment be postponed until Wednesday. This request was granted by the court and the prisoner was taken to the Park Hotel, where she was given an opportunity to consult with her attorneys.

Mrs. Todd is about 33 years old, of medium size and a pronounced brunette. She has been Mrs. Dr. Hearne's cellmate for several weeks. She claims that her daughter committed suicide. She and her husband ware divorced a few days before the crime. She will not ask for a change of venue.

AN EXILE AND IN JAIL.

Patrick Melody, Irish patriot, diplomatist and an exile from England, is under ar-rest. He has soiled the escutcheon of his B. L. Smith. at that time Assistant Payrest. He has solled the escutineon or instantly by firing a shot at a saloonkeeper. But worse than this, he fired the shot because the saloonkeeper would not pay him for officiating at a grand opening held some time ago at which Pat dished out meat and vegetables. The saloonkeeper in question is ex-Officer Michael Lawton, doing business at 2618 Cass avenue.

Lawton says that after the opening he found that his till had been tapped, that some silver spoons were missing and that a bottle of "Old 1849" had disappeared. He refused to remunerate Melody for officiating and when the noble exile entered his saloon at 1:30 Monday morning and angrily demanded his pay, Lawton kicked him out. Then Melody called his clan together and returned. Lawton offered to kick him out again. Pat pulled a revolver and fired, after which he fied.

Pat is about 63 years old, and is a well known character in St. Louis. Lawton swore out a warrant charging Pat with assault to kill Monday. family by firing a shot at a saloonkeeper

The stock of goods of Less Bros., 708 and 710 Washington avenue, under assignment, was sold Monday morning by W. H. Graham, trustee for the National Bank of the Republic, under the chattel mortgage given that institution, for $5.000. The claim of the bank, $7,000 has been satisfied by this sale and by collections which have been made, with the exception of $300. To satisfy this claim and the amounts of other creditors, amounting to nearly $45,000, there remains only $9,000 in outstanding book accounts, many of which are considered doubtful.

check is still unpaid and soiled, though it constitutes a valid claim against the Government for the amount represented upon its face, which was part payment of Gen. Custer's salary as an officer of the United States Army.

Where the check has been all these years no one knows, least of all Michael Francis, who found it in the street there last February and has retained it in his possession until the present time. When Mr. Francis picked up the bit of paper it was almost as legible as when it was drawn, but three heavy creases in it showed that it had been worn through. The parts were joined together by narrow strips of paper pasted on the back, and the edges were somewhat soiled, as though the paper had at one time been dropped in the mud.

No indorsement appears upon the back of the check, and the face shows the mark of no cancellation stamp, demonstrating that the check has never been presented for payment. The check was no doubt forwarded to the Northwest before the news of the Custer massacre reached Washington. Had it reached those in charge of the dead soldier's effects it would have been sent on his place. It has evidently been under shelter comewhers, and the chances are that it was mislaid last February, and swept out into the street, where it was found by Mr. Francis.

DURRANT'S DEFENSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. R.—Thirty-seven witnesses, not counting the silent ones which point forever to the murder of Blanche Lamont, have given their testimony in the nine weeks that have elapsed since the commencement of the Durant trial. Half a soure more will take the stand for the prosecution during the present week. The District Attorney is sanguine that he can put in his case not later than Wednesday evening, and in anticipation of this the attorneys for the accused are putting the finishing touches on their opening statement and will be ready to present it when called upon. The defense, it is stated, will be a surprise simple enough in construction, but entirely different from anything which any person is conceived to have gathered from the long drawn out cross-examinations. These, it is contended, were merely in the nature of signatic bluffs to conceal the real purpose of the defense, continued on in the hope that little details might be fished out that could be used in favor of the prisoner. Behind it all lurked the real plan ready to be sprung on the prosecution when the time came and that SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 3. - Thirty

Behind it all lurked the real plan ready to be sprung on the prosecution when the time came and that will have arrived when Mr. Deuprey is requested to make his statement for Durrant to the jury. In short semi-official utterances have it that Mr. Deuprey will state that neither himself nor his colleagues have ever entertained the idea of disputing the testimony of Mrs. Mary Wogs! and the three Normal School girls to the effect that Durrant joined Biancha Lamont at Clay and Powell streets at 3 o'clock on the after-
